

Hello Parents and Carers,

Archibald The Mini Marshmallow Snowman

As part of the PTA Christmas fun, Archibald has made his way into school today.

By paying 50p the children can guess the number of mini marshmallows in the jar to win a prize (not Archibald himself - plenty of glue holding him together which doesn't mix well with marshmallows!).

Classes will get the chance to see him over the coming days and if your child would like to join in the fun, please send them in with 50p tomorrow or Friday.

Good luck!

Connaught PTA
